

Table of contents

Preface 5

CHAPTER 1

The essence of macroeconomic stability and its measurement methods

Introduction	9
1.1 Definition of macroeconomic stability	11
1.2 Theoretical concepts of stability from the perspective of two main economic schools of thought	12
1.3 Aspects of macroeconomic stability	15
1.4 Role of policy in maintaining macroeconomic stability	19
1.5 Methods of measuring macroeconomic stability	22
Conclusions and further research recommendations	37

CHAPTER 2

Factors determining macroeconomic stability

Introduction	41
2.1 Measurable factors of macroeconomic stability	43
2.2 Mechanisms and institutional safety nets as qualitative factors of macroeconomic stability	51
Conclusions and further research recommendations	56

CHAPTER 3

Development versus stability – a comparative analysis

Introduction	57
3.1 Development and macro-fiscal indicators: definitions and interactions	58
3.2 Macroeconomic instability and the role of INSTAB	60
3.3 Comparative analysis of country groups: stability versus growth	63
3.4 Correlations and implications for policy	85
Conclusions and further research recommendations	94

CHAPTER 4

Macroeconomic modelling in behavioural economics

	Introduction: Classical macroeconomics versus behavioural macroeconomics . . .	97
4.1	Questioning the concept of homo economicus	99
4.2	Origins and development of behavioural economics	100
4.3	A behavioural approach to economic decision-making	101
4.4	Behavioural macroeconomic modelling	103
	Conclusions and further research recommendations	109

CHAPTER 5

Modelling macroeconomic stability using machine learning

	Introduction	113
5.1	Modelling macroeconomic stability	114
5.2	The role of modelling to predict the course of the macroeconomic stability state	117
5.3	A broadened perspective for considering macroeconomic stability	118
5.4	Predictive macroeconomic stability model	127
5.5	Assessment and forecast of Poland's macroeconomic stability	131
	Conclusions and further research recommendations	140

	References	143
--	----------------------	-----